Explore the Arts!

An invigorating experience awaits you!
Welcome

Welcome to the fourth edition of our popular Artists of Northwest Minnesota booklet. Quite a few individuals do a variety of disciplines and might be known for their ability to sing and their ability to draw. A listing in our booklet does not mean that we recommend their art or service, just that you should consider them and make your own informed choice. Social media is now an important way to see and connect with artists in all disciplines. It can be a bit challenging to list and keep Website addresses, Facebook, Instagram, YouTube and emails current so we will always provide telephone numbers.

Our goal is to assist creative people, organizations, and businesses to stay in business and flourish in our area. Let’s help them remain here in northwestern Minnesota, raising their own families and owning houses. Consider buying their prints, cards, original commissioned pieces over mass produced items at furniture stores and chains.

We publish this booklet every three years. If you would like to be listed in the fifth edition, our call for entries will start in the Spring of 2020. Please see our Website or call for more information closer to the date.

ODE TO AMERICA:
I’M NOT ASKING FOR TOMORROW

How do you feel about me?
I mean, right now tell me how you feel.
Do you love me? I love you.

I know because my heart aches when I’m missing you.
My soul tingles when I think of you.
And I smile instantly when I hear the speeches that hold these truths of America.
I love you...right now, and I’m excited about it.

Do you love me? Will you show me?
I love you.
I’m asking what will you do today that may linger forever?
I know you can’t promise tomorrow.
Things change...sometimes people change and feelings change.
I may decide that I don’t want to stay with you;
you may decide the same.
Who can see into the future? I’m asking for the moment.

Do you love me? Right now, do you love me?
I know that you’ve got problems, things you need to work out.
I know how scary this is...believe me.
We can go through this together, if you’d just let me know.

Love can hurt. I know that,
And if things don’t work out the pain will seem unbearable.
But I’m willing to take that chance.
I don’t want to put off my happiness, to wait for a better time.

Do you love me? I wait for your call
To right the wrongs and amend your legacy.
From Emmett Till to Tamir Rice to Philando Castile.

I’m not asking for tomorrow. All I want is today.
Show me you love me, now...right now.
We’ll discuss tomorrow when it comes.

- Former Sp4, US Army, SE Asia 1972 & ’73

“I believe these poems capture the essence of the soldier’s Vietnam experience and can express soldiers’ similar attitudes, with more recent combat exposure.”
- U.S. Army Vietnam Veteran, Retired Major 1972-92;

“Very introspective and haunting!”
Sister of a Veteran, 64, Served in Vietnam 1969-70

“The memories and experience of men at the same place and time differs greatly. No matter how an event like war is perceived in terms of memory and experience, the scars on the souls of all men are the same. Too often we glorify the courage of men in war but we fail to understand the aftermath. This is a good read. Donna Myhrer has the courage to ask the questions and if it helps one person understand the real cost of war, beyond just dollars, it has served its purpose.”
